The United Liberal Societies.
TO THE MITTOR OF THE NEW FORK HERALD.

Bin.—The report of the last semi-muthly meeting, published in the papers, is so short, and some or ris used therein are so bitter and weaton, as to fo ce me to submit, under my own name, before a kind and just public the following more particular explanation concerning the society to which I belong, and all those of my countrymen wap, by the above report, might be misled, and midge indevorably of the course I pursued as one of the delegates. In the beginning, I must say that in the said meeting I acted as delegate of a society which stands in the most intunce connection with the revolutionary elements of Europe, which is dependent on the universal European committees, and holds on to certain special principles, which could not nor would not be given up by it. It was, therefore, not intended to speak of Poles as individuals, or of all those of Polish or any other nationality, who have become already naturalized, and, consequently, should use and deemd their citizenship for the bee fit of that nationality of which they rightfully are an integral part.

The subject represented was a corporation, which, inasmuch as every true citizen respects the in-The United Liberal Societies.

citizenship for the benefit of that nationality of which they rightfully are an integral part.

The subject represented was a corporation, which, inasmuch as every true citizen respects the institutions of the United States, who could not take part in the domestic political affairs of America, and had no intention to do so. Where the people is tegrelative, without any open restraint, as here—where the appointment of officers, (for the executive power,) from the highest to the lowest, depends on the free will of the nation—where the control of the government is left to the people, (as the daily critics of the journals assert.) there the people are sovereign, sacred in their rights, and intangible.

To amend the defects of an edifice, to after its form, or to pull down the whole structure and remodel the same, is the right of the proprietor, but not of the visiter or transient inhabitant.

We aguate early against despoet an; we are willing and prompt to aght for the freedom of all oppressed nations in the world, but we respect a republic—we respect the rights of a sovereign people.

What every non-materalized individual is permitted to do privately—viz: to oppose all possible and actual abuses, intrigues, corruption and injustice in public affairs, by promoting intelligence by means of words and writings—is un-soubtedly also the privilege of every non-naturalized Pole; but what belongs to the citizen only of this severeign action, this our corporation, as such, according to as particular and special tendencies and duties, does not claim.

We Poles also have had our home—we have been as particular and special tendencies and duties, foes lot claim.

We Poles also have had our home—we have been rebbed of it by foreign despotic invaders. Poland in all. Europe groan now under the oppression of the most terrible despotism; but we never give up may rights to our own home; we hope for the perhaps soon approaching redemption of all the outputs of a special properties. It is not a statute first, and above all, towards Europe.

This is the true meaning of what I, in the name of the Polish Democratic Society, did say in the last meeting frankly, but with all due respect towards the convention. Of this I complain, that dure the polish bemocratic Society, did say in the last meeting frankly, but with all due respect towards the convention. Of this I complain, that dure proportion has been charged in the published report rather indelicately with deplorable ignorance at the affairs of America. This is the reason why had society is bitterly accused as not willing to be ear society is bitterly accused as not willing to be naturalized.

We certainly have no objection to become citizens of the United States, just because we honor most highly the institutions of this free country; and we shall, as true citizens of America, certainly support to the best of our ability the welfare of this savereign nation if an unfortunate combination of political circumstances in Europe compols us to look for a remanent existence here. But who can blame us for loving our native country, in whose early liberation we believe, and on whose account we wash for no other home? Who can blame us for going first to the support of our own country and other oppressed nations of Europe to redeem them by were and deed, with blood and life? Who can blame us for directing our first thoughts and steps to that point where despositem and Jesuitism spread with dreadful strides, and might become dangerous even to the United States of America?

So much for my justification. I cheerfully submit my case to a just public, and shall enter no further into polemics.

Dr. L. SZPACZSKY.

DEATH OF THE PATRIARCH JOHN SMITH.

(From the Dearet News, May 25.)

The knell for the departure of one mighty Smirt has hardly ceased sounding in our ears, ere we are called upon to announce the departure of another suble spirit, who has laid down a fruil body to cest swhite, and passed behind the veil to shake hands and rejoice with his brothers Joseph, Asahel and Slas; his nephews, Joseph and Hyrum, and the faishful of all ages.

JOHN SMITH, Patriarch of the Church of Jasus Chirt of Latter Day Saints, after a severe illness of the month, died at his residence in this city, at ten minutes past 11 o'clock P. M., on the 23d inst.

Father Smith was born in Dervyfield, (now Mannister.) Rockingham county, New Hampshire, on the 14th of July, A. D., 1781, and was baptised into the faith, which has so long preserved his life in refuleess, or the 5th of January, 1832, and ordained an Elder, after having been given up by the doctors to die of consumption. The weather was so cold that the ice had to be cut, and from that time e gained health and strength.

In 1833 he moved to Kirtland, Ohio, and in 1838 o Par West Caldwell county, Missouri, and thence to Adam-ord-Abman. In Davies county, where he presided over that branch of the church until expelled by the mob in 1839, and arrived in Illinois on the 28th of February of that year. He located at o Adamord-Abman, in Davies county, where he presided over that branch of the church until expelled by the mob in 1839, and arrived in Illinois on the 28th of February of that year. He located at Breen Plains, six miles from Warsaw, where he put a a crop of corn, split rails, and performed much hard labor unsufted to his health and years, but belief to be done for the support of his family. In June he moved to Commerce, (since Nanvoo) and we the 4th of October was appointed to preside over the Church in Iowa, and on the 12th moved to Lee ounty to falfil that mission.

October, 1843, he moved to Macedenia, Hancock county, Illinois, having been appointed to preside over the faints in that place. In Junuary, 1844, he was ordained a Patriarch, and in November of that car, was driven by mobbers from Macedonia to where he continued to administer Patri-

In a dreary winter on the right bank
souri, at a place called Winter Quarters, was fook up the weary ex train march on the th of June, 1847, and reached this place September 3d, where he presided over the church in the mounins until January 1st, 1849, when he was ordained atriarch over the Church under the hands of Predeats Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball.
He moved out of the Fert to his city lot, February 849, and this is the only spot on which he has een privileged to cultivate a garden two years in accession for the last twenty-three years.
In addition to a vast amount of varied and effient aid to thousands in the way of salvation, during is long and faithful ministry, he administered five illion five hundred and sixty patriarchal blessings which are recorded in seven large and closely ritten books, and has closed the arduous duties of well secupied probation, and passed to a position rest where his works will nobly follow and honor

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MOSEY MARKET.

There was considerable activity at the first heard to day in all the leading speculative stocks. Cumberland was the favorite with buyers, and most of the transactions were for each. This is, without doubt, the most promising steek on the list. It has a wide margin for improvement, and the probability is that it will be sconer covered than any other on the list of equal ex-tent. It was quite evident to-day that the public mind tent. It was quite evident to-day that the public mind had rartially recovered its former tone and elasticity. The improvement in prices for fancy stocks, and the purchases—not only for each, but on time, sellors' eptier—bow more confidence in the future and in the recurrently energies of the stock market generally. There is still a germ of confidence left, notwithstanding the shock the present system of credit received by the shock the present system of credit received by the developements of the past week, and we trust it will be carefully fostered until it again gets sufficient strength to sustain itself. At the first beard to day, Canton Con a pany advanced if per cent; Nicaragua Traneit, if; Cumberland Coal, if; Eric Railroad, ii. The rise in Eric Railroad is a matter of some surprise, for it is pretty generally believed that the next break down will be in that stock. We do not anticipate an expose similar to that in the New Haven, but we believe the concern to be rotten, root and branch, and that an explosion cannot be far off. Any improvement in the market value of the slock cannot therefore he otherwise than temporary. There may be yet a few more inflations in the stock; the bulls and bears may have a few more contests in the game over this fancy, before it is closed, but when in the game over this fancy, before it is closed, but when the sustaining power is taken away it will come down with the sustaining power is taken away it will come down with a crash that will annihilates greater per cent of the present market value of the stock than New Haven or Harlem has experienced. Holders of the stock do not appear to be aware of the position of the company's affairs, and as a general thing, have no more apprehension of anything occurring to depreciate its market value than the holders of New Haven Railread stock had the day before the grand denouement. New York Central Railroad stock lungers along in the neighborhood of par, and it appears to be difficult to move it much either way. The least of management have determined upon a dividend board of management have determined upon a dividend of four jercent, and whatever may be wanting in the net income to meet the dividend, will, of course, be made up with funds from some other source. The construction account of these large concerns never will be closed, and it is therefore easy enough, so long as they can borrow money to make up any defic ency in the net revenue from earnings. Reading Railroad rules very lor. The company never have dece a larger or more profitable business than this year, and its dividends will be at least the same as heretofore, leaving, of course, a greater sur-plus. Notwiths' snding this, the market value of the tock is lower now than we have known for many months, and it appears to us that it is unwarrantably depreciated;

The Boston Journal of the 10th itest, says:—
Willis & Co., well known as one of the leading stock and banking houses is State street, were obliged to suspend asyment on Saturday, in consequence of the severe siring energy of the messay market, and the difficulty of negotiating loans during a teriod of ones general distruct. The imbilities of the consern are doubtless very large, astimated at between one and two millions; but we understand that Mr. Willis feels considered to being able to discharge his obligations in full, and has alreavy stated that his feek contracts will be profested. It is stated also that the firm show a surplus of $175,000 over isabilities.
